Private Fostering

Under the Children Act 1989 (part IX) you MUST tell us if you:

- look after someone else's child in a private fostering arrangement or
- ask someone not closely related to you to look after your child in a private fostering arrangement.

What is Private Fostering?

Private fostering takes place when:

- a home and care is provided to a child under 16 years old (or under 18 years old if the child is disabled) by someone who is not related to them
- In this case a relative includes grandparents, brothers, sisters, uncles or aunts. It also includes half relatives, step parents and people who are related to the child by marriage.

- it is for 28 days or more
- it is a private arrangement between the carers and the child's parents or guardian.

Examples of private fostering arrangements include:

- Children who are sent to live in this country for education and/or health care by birth parents who live overseas
- Children who live with a friend's family because of separation, divorce or arguments at home
- Teenagers who live with the family of a boyfriend or girlfriend
- Children whose parents work or study commitments involve unsociable hours which makes it difficult for them to use ordinary day or after school care
- Children whose parents may have a long term illness and are unable to look after them
- Children who are sent to friends during the holidays.
